NICKLE'S WORTH

Well I'm back from my summer vacation. Saw a lot of places and people in the three weeks that I was gone. Took my guns and cart with me in case I came across a SASS shoot somewhere. I only had time for one shoot and that was with the Dixie Desperados in Hurricane, UT. That is pronounced Her-i-can. Good people to shoot with. They have their own range with twelve bays. The bays are not very deep, so the targets are up close, big and personal. They have a lot of buildings and are adding more. They also start shooting early in the morning, 8:00 AM, as it gets a trifle warm towards noon in the summer. Around a 100 or so. If you are ever in that neck of the woods, stop in and say howdy and shoot with the good people of the Dixie Desperados.

On this trip I was reminded of the 80 to 20 principle. In any organization or club there are 20 people who work to make things happen and 80 people who enjoy the benefits. This has been the case with our political processes as well. To many people have sat on the sidelines and let other people do it. It is time for every one to step up to the plate and take an active role. If you don't then you have no complaints coming. If you see something that needs doing, go ahead and take care of it.
