NICKLE'S WORTH

For those of you who could not attend the 2014 Sage Brush Rebellion, you missed a good match. My thanks to Dusty and Neverclear for the stages and shooters books, as well as all the behind the scenes work that they did, dinner, score keeping, etc. We have a new shade area and it went up fast with the help of Chief, Grey Soldier, Dusty, Orion. Next year we plan on having more shaded areas.

Thanks to our sponsors this year.

Bullseye Recycling

Big O Tires

Honey Lake Firearms

Days End RV Park

Billington Ace Hardware

Nickle Leather Works

Table Sponsors-Bug Town Dusty, Miss Kitty, Tom Two Guns, Kid Nickle, Grey Soldier.

When you go into one of our sponsors place of business, tell them Thank You and shop there if you can.

We have a new mascot to help keep law and order at the Rebellion. His name is Marshal J. W. Lope. He was sent in on the orders of Silver Mary of Reno, Nv.

The Saturday night dinner was superb. What could be better than tri tip, chicken, with all the trimmings and desserts? Everyone probably gained some weight after that meal. I think I put on at least two pounds. So my thanks to the ladies of The Laureate of Sigma Phi. They did such a super job and it is much appreciated. If I got their name wrong my apologies having senior moments.

Make plans and mark your calendar for next years Sage Brush Rebellion. July 31, Aug 1, Aug 2, 2015.

There is good news and some not so good. At the gun show in Reno the supply of primers was good. The prices have come down to normal levels. The ammo supply looked great, plenty of stock and no limits. The not so good news is that they had a good supply of .22 ammo, but you had to pay a goodly price for it. The price of bullets has risen due to metal prices going up all over. The other not so good news is the scarcity of powders for reloading. My favorite powders are not in stock, so I will have to substitute different powders for reloading pistol, rifle and shotgun. Other shooters are having the same issues. Things are getting better, just not as fast as we would like.

This year thanks to Bug Town Dusty, The Sierra Sportsmen float with the Regulators and The Clay Dusters took Third Place in the Lassen County Fair Parade. Everyone had a great time and will try and do it again next year.
