

SHERIFF'S BLOTTER

By C. C. Dollar

Hello from the Great White North. Once again there is 18" of global warming on my front deck with a week's worth of snow headed our way. I must say before I start this newsletter that I have the worst cold I've had in years and am on a pretty good Nyquil buzz (don't believe the every six hours only thing)...so please excuse my wanderings. The weather did treat us right last weekend as 29 shooters enjoyed a break in rain and snow to bang six stages of steel. It was good to see some old friends show up we have not seen in a while and quite a few new faces. Thanks again to Jasper Agate for writing the stages and everyone who showed up early to help set up.

When I save this newsletter on my computer it will be titled: Roop Newsletter #37. Yep...this is my 37th and last newsletter as Sheriff of Roop County Cowboy Shooters. I have been lucky in life to have retired from three wonderful jobs...this being one. The best part is I am leaving the Sheriffs position with a huge smile on my face. I have been asked by several people..."why are you stepping down?". The answer is quite simple...once again...I am quite happy with where our club is after three years and could not be happier that Jasper Agate has stepped up to be Sheriff. Roop County Shooters have had quite a story to tell in the last three years. We went from shooting at the Washoe County range under their supervision and archaic rules to a private range. We purchased a $2700.00 container (leaving us less than $300.00 in the bank...being charged $470.00 to move the container)...loaded up our steel and said...Good Bye. Quick Cal invited us to his private range and the rest is history. Our membership has grown and our monthly matches are getting better and larger. Roop County Days is now the 'talk of the town' and we finally have a few nickels in our pocket to rub together. I am not taking credit for this. The credit goes to the original founders of our club and their vision of what Cowboy Action Shooting is and has become. The credit also goes to our members who show up every month with gloves on their hands and smiles on their faces asking "What needs to be done?". And last...the credit goes to the Roop County board members behind the scenes planning and preparing the matches and extras. So...thanks everyone. However...I am not going anywhere, so you will still have C.C. Dollar to kick around. I am staying on as Constable and Roop County Days match director. Speaking of Roop County Days...The dates are September 9th, 10th and 11th. I just talked to Wildroot and he has once again posted Roop County Days on the California Gunslingers Northern California annual match directory. Check it out...it's pretty cool. More good news is that the John Wayne Shoot in California is now one month before our shoot leaving no other annual shoot for SASS in general. Without Toni, Russ T. Chambers, Denio, Jasper Agate, Bee Bad, Big Pete, Fanny Seabride, Nevada Turtle, Jeremiah Jonathan and ALL our members there would be no Roop County or Roop County Days. It's only going to get better.....

See ya at the Range.

THE DEPUTY'S DESK

By Toni 2 Bits

Hello everyone

This is a combined report for the NVCAS website for Roop and HPD on the results of the TG's meetings in Las Vegas last week.

There were 329 out of over 600 worldwide SASS clubs represented at the Territorial Governor's meetings in Las Vegas last week. In the meetings were approximately 160 men and 8 women representing in person those clubs that sent or held proxies for other clubs.

As usual with the very first agenda item, that weekend but ours. You might want to practice shooting and sighting your pistol caliber and big bore rifles at 25, 50 and 100 yards for a three shot timed string...there could be a Cadillac in your future. Two rifles...loaded with three rounds each...staged on table...hands flat on table...shooters choice...Beeeeeeeeeep! In my last official paragraph as Sheriff I would like to thank our Territorial Governor Toni 2 Bits for all the up front and behind the scenes work she has done for our club, Roop County Days and

TG's wanted to change the wording of eliminating the 10-second safety penalty for overloading a rifle. It seems there are shooters that consistently overload their rifles at the loading table because their rifle consistently spits out a loaded round so the shooter doesn't have to reload off his/her body. Pale Wolf Brunelle and Black Jack Zak (both on the RO Committee) clarified that NO round in the rifle that is accidentally or purposely overloaded in the rifle from what the stage description says is a

DEAD round and cannot be used. The shooter must load off the body or take a miss as well as a safety penalty for overloading. Hipshot, who Chairs the meetings, reiterated that the first time a shooter overloads a rifle, it's a minor safety penalty of 10 seconds, the second time it's a Stage DQ, and the third time in the same match, it's a Match DQ ...also along the way some clubs give "Spirit of the Game" 30-second penalties. If perchance a shooter does overload and uses that extra round, it's a Procedural for illegally acquired ammo and a miss. I don't know of anyone in our clubs who consistently overload their rifles because of ejecting a live round all the time, but be aware this penalty is tightening up. Just about everyone at some time has overloaded a rifle, but don't do it consistently. Get your rifle fixed. This item failed by 57% to keep the penalty to 43% to get rid of it, so it'll probably come up again next year. The second item was, as usual, a real loud one. This agenda item has surfaced every year for the past 3 or 4 because it doesn't pass nor fail by a two-thirds majority. It's always about a 55% against changing the "open and empty" rule to about 45% or changing it. There are TG's (and clubs) that are very passionate about getting rid of open and empty in the long guns, and other clubs are just as passionate on keeping it. This rule is important for the Timer Operator to know the shooter has nothing left in the chamber. Those that want to change it say it's not a safety issue, but we all know there are times when someone overloads a rifle (see above paragraph) and has a loaded round still in the weapon that "could" get fired accidentally, especially if there was a stage where the shooter and Timer Operator, and maybe one or more spotters, go downrange during the stage and someone else picks up the rifle to take it to the Unloading Table to expedite the stage. There again, those TG's and clubs that want to get rid of this rule think they can save time by not having to make sure the weapon is open and empty, but this also applies to everyone one on saving time. Or get their long guns (rifle and shotgun) fixed so the spent shell always comes out properly. Also, several TG's mentioned the side-by-side shotgun shooters had trouble "shucking" rounds, so if the shotgun didn't have to be empty that would save time. Here again, others said clean the gun(s) or spend some money with a competent gunsmith to have the rifle/shotgun releasing/extracting the spent shell(s) properly. A lot of us believe if this ever passes, the next year an agenda item will be just to put the long gun down without any opening at all. This item will also probably show up again next year because it didn't pass (or fail) by a two-thirds majority. (See below for more on "open" clarification). Item number three -- Frontier Cartridge Gunfighter failed as it always has. That's not to say that any club can't have this category - just that it's not one that will be "sanctioned" for State and above Championships. (See below for more on categories.)

Item number four - the Burgess Rifle in B-Western...passed. Now for that Category, any rifle made by 1880 or later or a replica thereof, is approved for B-Western Category. This now applies to the Burgess, 1892 Winchester or Marlin, Lightning).

Solomon Star snuck in a fifth item under New Business that was approved by the majority of the TG's without the clubs knowing anything about it. Solomon is a "died in the wool" glitzy, B-Western guy, and he wanted a Bolo Tie included in the items for B-Western. There actually was about a 20-minute wrangle on this item...not because anyone cared about the Bolo, but because some TG's didn't think we could add on and vote on an item that our clubs didn't know about. Elder Kate, SASS Wire Moderator and a member of the RO Committee told everyone that the TG's are the body of the clubs that can vote on any item, or table it until next year, and the RO Committee clarifies any of the rules (new or old). Since this was a really small item, we all voted for it. If this were an important item that was voted on, the club members might not like whatever the item was...so a representative in person at the meetings is somewhat helpful. Here again, if this was an important item and there wasn't a representative, that club doesn't have a vote one way or the other. Proxies are only for the EXACT wording or an agenda item that is published in October. Any changes or new items have no votes.

We find quite often the agenda items are modified in the meetings so we might not be voting on exactly what was mentioned to all our club members.

Amendments are floated on the floor, discussed, argued upon, and possibly changed or go back to what was originally written.

Discussion items: (1) Double alias at matches -- a LOUD resounding NO at State and above Championships. But at the club level, a shooter can have 2 aliases in one or two categories...the club gets 2 entry fees...BUT if one alias Match DQs both aliases are OUT (i.e., if John Doe in Duelist and the same person, Joe Blow in Gunfighter Category drops a loaded firearm, both are out. If John Doe has a Stage DQ, he can continue on in both categories.) A lot of us in the meeting thought this was not the best thing because the one shooter gets 2 chances to shoot the same stage and others in those categories only get to shoot it once for score.

(2) Mares Leg in Main Match as a pistol...this one was laughed out. One TG said if a short-statured shooter was allowed this firearm in a Buscadero rig, it would drag the ground...a lot of laughs.

(3) Possible realignment of categories. The committee that met several years ago when the Wrangler Category came out are going to reconvene and try to get a handle on "fixing" the 100+ official categories. It was hoped those people could add some "new blood" to the committee and be opened-minded. One TG said start out with just four items -- shooting style, propellant, sex, age, and go from there. More from that committee later in 2011.

The RO Committee met for several hours to "clarify" current rules, One of which was what is "OPEN"? How far does an action need to be open. At first, Pale Wolf and Black Jack Zak said the RO rule book would be clarified about open that if you could see a part of the shell, but several TG's said this wouldn't work since there are several models of guns you can see the shell when it is totally closed, early model Lightning with no dust cover and a '66. There are other models of lever guns a rim can be seen without any opening. Pale Wolf tabled this one for further study...shouldn't open be described as "open until it hits a 'stop' whether it's a rifle or a shotgun? Turtle has sent more on RO Committee clarifications and probably more on this one, too. Shouldn't an action be totally open to have a spent shell extracted or ejected?

Several of us couldn't figure out why the RO Committee was even "clarifying" this item.

During the Convention, El Rod presented 2 2-hour seminars on the pump rifle. If you haven't been to a convention, you might want to try it once...there is a lot going on with seminars all day long. Dinners and get-togethers every night to meet and greet people from all over - some are free and others you have to pay for. Seminars such as Evil Roy's pistol class, ROI and ROII classes, pistol modifications, lever rifle dismantling and cleaning, Victorian ladies dresses, hats, wigs and other personal items of the period, Victorian Tea Dance, pistol twirling, roping and bullwhipping, SASS Scoring program, Tombstone OK Corral saga, what type of holsters/belts are best for each shooter, and a huge number of others. Seminars are free. Also during the same time in Las Vegas is the "Cowboy Christmas" tied with the National Rodeo. SASS vendors at the convention are at the Riviera, but the Cowboy Christmas is gigantic at the LV Convention Center and Sands Convention Center. We've only managed to get over to the LV Convention Center once during our trips down there because of SASS things, but Winchester and his wife were there this year and from what I understand found several cowboy items of apparel at really good prices.

Thanks to everyone who spent their time to come to our chocolate party last week. Also a big thanks for the goodies, munchies, flowers, plants and wine. We tallied up 63 people who came sometime during the day. Three years in a row our dinner has been the leftovers on the table late in the evening, especially Brazos' wife May's chow mien noodles...yum. As mentioned before, this was our last open house chocolate party after 25 years of not being able to go anywhere from the first of November until Christmas. We'll still make some truffles to give away, maybe in September or May, but not have an open house.

Happy holidays to all and to all a good night. See you next year after El Rod's second knee replacement this month.

THE JUDGE'S BENCH

By Jasper Agate

Howdy all,

This will be the last time I'll write to you as Judge. CC Dollar has been looking to retire as Sheriff for a year now and we reached an amiable compromise. I'm taking his job and he has graciously offered to stay on as a Constable in the capacity as an advisor for me and also Match director for our ROOP County Days! South Paw as offered (under coercion) to sign up as Judge, until someone else volunteers to take the job full time. The Long Arm family has kindly stepped up to help write and run the stages, so between CC Dollar, South Paw, the Long Arm family and myself we'll set up a schedule to share the load of set up and running our monthly matches. CC and I told the rest of the board after our Dec match and now you all know also. Be sure to tell CC thanks for three years of service to our club!!

We had 29 shooters come out for a beautiful day. We also had a few new shooters join us. El Dorado and Cal Tex Rider introduced me to a new shooter they brought out. They told me to check out his SASS # and all I could spit out was "who did you steal that from" Sorry, Dakota, no disrespect intended!! If I remember correctly it was somewhere around 1100. He knew Deadeye Dick and Dutch Dalton from a former life; he commented to me the Dutch was really fast way back when! Dakota Blaze is a great guy and will make a fine addition to our club! Drifter John brought Dave, we'll call him BaseBall Cap Dave for now and he shot all the stages and I believe I remember on one of them he was clean. I think he will be back! Our good friend Ole Uffda brought a friend all the way from Sacramento. He didn't shoot, but he joined our club, welcome Snake oil Charlie!! Washoe Zephyr and Reese River Ruby (RRR) also brought out a friend who didn't shoot until the end of the day, but I did see her shagging brass. We also had a young man in a wheel chair, whose name eludes me/show up. He liked what he saw and I saw; Deadeye Dick giving him some pointers after the match. I think he will be back also.

The response to my email for help was overwhelming, thank you, thank you, thank you!!! We had the whole range set up in record time. I'm going to write the stages for January and will need your generous help once again. I'm going to figure out a way to utilize help in a more organized manner so everyone doesn't have to get up at the crack of dawn again. I can't tell you all how proud and happy I was to see the amount of cowboys and girls that showed up to help!!!

January's match will have BIG BORE OPTIONAL, so be sure to bring out your big boomers!

If you have any concerns or ideas to make our club better feel free to contact me at (775) 530-3935 or galligan@neteze.com

Happy Holidays to you all!

Snake Oil Charlie

I do what to thank all of the members for the great time i had at the last shoot. this was the most enjoyable one that i ever attended.

As being a new person i felt that it was old home week and had been gone a long long time. i will see everyone at the next shoot providing the pass is open.

thank you again
keep your power dry
Charlie

VISITING SHOOTER

From Drifter John

I would like to thank everyone at the Dec Roop shoot for welcoming and helping my buddy Dave Duner. I had been after him for some time to come out and see what Northern Nevada CAS is all about as I knew he would enjoy it.

On the way to the range I told him I would try to get him some shooting time but didn't know how it would work out. I talked to Jasper before the match and in true Cowboy fashion said "Hell yes sign him up!" Dave ended up shooting the entire match and had a ball! I would again like to thank the club and especially Jasper, Dead Eye Dick, Washoe Zephyr and Hellfire Preacher for coaching him and walking him through the stages.

Longarm I think your right, the hook is set for a new shooter!

Fantastic wealth spewing forth in a continuous stream of silver from the Comstock Lode created many industries that were to thrive long after the deep mines were boarded up; others lived a short, full life, riding the white metal crest, and then disappearing almost as suddenly as they sprang to life.

Most fabulous of these was lumbering! The hydra-headed Comstock had an insatiable appetite for timber; a craving which consumed nearly seventy-three million feet of lumber each year, while necessary adjuncts to the business of mining gulped up another quarter million cords of wood annually.

It was a hunger that could not be denied! As men burrowed into the steaming depths of Sun Mountain, they were closely followed by sturdy timber sets to form a giant maze of underpinning for the thin earth crust above. Men's greed for silver was surpassed only by the mines' propensity for lumber. From Virginia City down through Gold Canyon and clear to the Carson River was another sprawling "above ground empire" of mills and hoists craving cordwood to fire its boilers and treat the cold blue ore. Such was the demand that the eastern Sierra slope soon became denuded of stately pine, and even the roots were torn up and used for charcoal to feed the furnaces.

To J. W. Haines of Genoa goes credit for the development of an engineering marvel, designed to supply timber quickly and efficiently. His invention was the V-Flume, a sectional wooden trough, manufactured from two-inch planking with each section so carefully fitted that there were no apparent breaks in the entire length. The flumes followed natural grades, crossing canyons on overhead trestles, winding in gradual curves from the summits to valleys below. Through these flumes flowed a turbulent stream of water capable of carrying sixteen inch square timbers up to thirty feet in length at speeds from fifteen to sixty miles an hour.

At flume's end, Washoe and Eagle valleys, the timbers were shunted into stacking yards to await rail transportation over the V and T to Virginia City. Ten flume companies—operating in 1880—maintained eighty miles of flume.

The entire Lake Tahoe region became a logging camp almost as far as the eye could see. French Canadians, Italians and Chinese were employed as wood choppers in the forests. The rough timber was snaked to the lake or hauled by oxen-powered wagons. Here it was rafted to such mill points as Glenbrook where it was sawed into planks, scantlings, boards and square timbers, then transported to the summit and dumped in the V-Flume trough for a swift, white spray ride to the valleys below, eventually to be buried in the caverns, stopes and drifts of Sun Mountain that men might mine more silver.
